Pledges for 2019 can be returned any Sunday in December and placed in the offering basket.

The Ladies Auxiliary is preparing our annual gifts for veterans at the West Haven VA Hospital. Since we provide gifts according to special needs, monetary gifts in any amount are most helpful. See Jean Cherniavsky, Nancy Muro or Susan Papademetris to make a donation or to offer your help.

Adopt-a-family gifts are to be brought to church by next Sunday, December 9th.

The parish council is preparing for the 2019 annual parish meeting, which will be on Sunday, February 3rd. Committees will be appointed at the December council meeting. If you would like to serve on the budget, the nominations or the by-laws committee, speak to council president Alex Oji or to Father Michael.

As you make your list and check it twice, finding the right gift, either for one person or for a dozen, think about a special gift for your parish at Christmastime. Make it an expression of thanks for blessings beyond number.

Be mindful that our preparations for Christmas need to include more than shopping, parties and cooking. As we prepare to receive God in the flesh, let us make our hearts clean and prepared through our lenten efforts: fasting- from sin even more than from food, almsgiving- good works done in secret, and repentance- including the holy and saving mystery of Confession.

A WORD ON LOVE AND SELF-LOVE –from Saint Nicholas of Zicha

The Lord Jesus Christ visited the earth in power and humility, in order to teach men to love God and man. Men are powerless in themselves; love for God fills them with power. Men are proud in themselves; love for mankind fills them with humility. Love for man comes from love for God. Humility comes from a sense of divine power. All love for men without love for God is false, and all oth3er power but that of God is proud and powerless. But men have chosen a third thing, that is neither love for God nor love for men – they have chosen self-love, and this is a barrier that separates them from God and from men, leaving them completely isolated.

Loving only himself, a man loves neither God not his fellow men. He does not even love the man that is in himself; he loves only his thoughts about himself, his illusions about himself. Were he to love the man in himself, he would at the same time love God's image in him, and would quickly become a lover of God and man, for he would be seeking man and God in other men, as objects of his love. Self-love is not love, but is rejection of God and contempt for men, whether open or concealed. Self-love is not love but sickness, a serious illness that inevitably brings other illnesses in its train. A pox inevitably produces fever throughout the body. A man full of self-love is full of envy and anger in the whole body. A man full of self-love is full of envy of those who are better than he is, or richer, more learned or more respected by men. With envy there always goes anger, like flame with fire; a concealed anger, that flares out at times and, in so doing, reveals all the ugliness of the man's sick heart, that has been poisoned with the poison of self-love.

At this time of the year we are assaulted with Christmas messages– usually in the form of endless advertisements and encouragement/temptation to buy something. This is, of course, presented as the way to enjoy the feast, the 'spirit of the season.' But the Holy Church is also giving us messages– messages of joy and hope and boundless love, messages of giving in the self-donation of the Creator to his creation. On Wednesday evening, at the vespers for Saint Nicholas, we will sing:

> Triumph, O Zion! Rejoice, O Jerusalem, city of Christ our God! Receive the Creator contained within a cave and a manger. Open the gates to me. I will enter to see a child wrapped in swaddling clothes who upholds the creation in the palm of his hand, whose praises the angels sing with unceasing voice: the Lord and Giver of life who saves mankind.
